

Screening: earlier detection of disease is not necessarily better

Lynda Ware for Evidently Cochrane 23 October 2020.

References

1. Children with Cancer UK. Neuroblastoma. childrenwithcancer.org. Web. 15 October 2020. <https://www.childrenwithcancer.org.uk/childhood-cancer-info/cancer-types/neuroblastoma/>
2. Evans, I., Thornton, H. and Chalmers, I., 2011. 4 – Earlier is not necessarily better. In Testing Treatments. 2nd ed. London: Pinter & Martin Ltd. Available from: <https://en.testingtreatments.org/book/4-earlier-not-necessarily-better/>
3. Ilic D, Neuberger MM, Djulbegovic M, Dahm P. Screening for prostate cancer. Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2013, Issue 1. Art. No.: CD004720. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD004720.pub3. <https://www.cochranelibrary.com/cdsr/doi/10.1002/14651858.CD004720.pub3/full>
4. Morris JK. Screening for neuroblastoma in children. J Med Screen. 2002;9(2):56. doi: 10.1136/jms.9.2.56. <https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/pdf/10.1136/jms.9.2.56>
5. NHS. NHS screening. NHS.UK. 2018. Web. 15 October 2020. <https://www.nhs.uk/conditions/nhs-screening/>
6. Sense About Science. Making sense of screening: A guide to weighing up the benefits and harms of health screening programmes (2nd ed). Sense About Science, 2015. Web. 15 October 2020. <https://en.testingtreatments.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/10/Making-Sense-of-Screening-2nd-edition.pdf>